I hereby certify, under penalty of perjury, that the attached bylaws of the American Anthropological Association are a complete and accurate copy as approved.

_____ Name/Title	_____ Date
---------------------	---------------

Bylaws of the American Anthropological Association
as amended June 15, 2006

ARTICLE I. Organization

Section 1. The American Anthropological Association is a general membership organization.

Section 2. The Association Executive Board

a. For purposes of advancing the Association's missions and serving Association members, may create Interest Groups or Sections to be part of and governed by the Association.

b. Shall dissolve or reclassify any Interest Group or Section failing to meet the requirements set forth in Sections 4 or 5.

Section 3. An Interest Group

a. May be formed around an important intellectual topic or professional concern(s), primarily for purpose(s) of networking and/or informal exchanges of information. The purpose(s) must fall within the scope of those specified in the Association Articles and these Bylaws.

b. Must have a statement of purpose stating

(i) the intellectual topic(s) or professional concerns around which it is to be formed,

(ii) the process for selecting a convener, and

(iii) a process for organizing information exchange.

c. May not assess dues, but may charge fees for services approved by the Executive Board, such as a newsletter, the collection and expenditures of which will be administered by the Association Executive Office.

d. May not create a general fund balance.

e. Must have a minimum of 25 Members.

f. Must meet such other requirements as may be approved by the Executive Board.

Section 4. A Section

a. Must be organized around a broad and significant intellectual area within the broad definition of anthropology.

b. Must have a stated purpose

(i) Consistent with and supportive of the purposes of the Association, and which is in addition to the purposes of any existing Section.

(ii) Committed to advancing the intellectual areas around which it is formed.

(iii) Committed to reaching beyond the discipline in disseminating knowledge.

c. Shall be otherwise autonomous in all matters within its field that are not reserved to the Association, not inimical to Association interests, or prohibited by law.

d. Shall determine voting requirements on all Section matters.

e. Shall have an elected President or Chair and may have other elected or appointed officers whose qualifications and manner of election or appointment shall be determined by the Section.

f. Shall adopt and maintain Bylaws or Rules of Procedure, including the required statement of purpose, which must be consistent with Association Bylaws, approved by the AAA Executive Board, and filed with the Association Executive Office.

g. May assess dues and/or charges for particular services, and may establish special funds, the collection and expenditure of which will be administered by the Association Executive Office for purposes the Section may designate.

h. May engage in publishing and program activities appropriate to its purposes; it may appoint editors and other agents of the Section and set publication and program policies for the Section, so long as the policies are not inimical to the interests of the Association.

i. Shall submit an annual operating budget to the Executive Board which, when approved, shall govern Section activities.

j. Must have a minimum of 250 Members to become and remain a Section.

Section 5. Section Charter

The purpose of the Charter is to specify those matters over which individual Sections shall normally exercise autonomous control except as stated below. These matters include:

1. Section publications;
2. Section membership criteria;
3. Decisions Regarding allocation of the Section's resources; and
4. The initial ranking of submission for the Association's scholarly programs.

Sections have the right to presume that their decisions will prevail, except in those cases where a decision clearly violates the legal responsibilities of the Association (e.g. actions prohibited by the Bylaws and matters reserved by the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws to the Executive Board or the Association as a whole) or where a decision constitutes a clear and present danger to the profession or the Association. A Section which believes its rights have been violated has the right to appeal its case to the Executive Board.

ARTICLE II. Membership

Section 1. Membership in the Association, its Sections and its Interest Groups is open to all individuals and institutions upon payment of required dues.

Section 2. There shall be three classes of members: Members, Associates, and Institutions.

a. Any person having a demonstrable professional or scholarly interest in the science of anthropology shall be eligible to be a Member of the Association. A professional interest in the science of anthropology is defined as a serious concern in the subject in accordance with the standards generally accepted in the profession, whether or not the interest is a source of livelihood. Section 3. A Member who has made significant professional or scholarly contributions to anthropology may be designated a Fellow of the Association by the Executive Board. Fellows shall not be required to pay special dues.

Section 4. For just cause, a Member, Associate, or Institution may be deprived of membership by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the Executive Board, subject to appeal to the Members for reinstatement at the next annual meeting. The appeal must be in the form of a resolution.
