

AAA is pleased to announce the release of:

Anthropology: Real People, Real Careers

“What can you DO with a degree in anthropology?” This NEW product provides exciting information about the vast array of careers available to anthropologists.

Whether students are considering an anthropology degree, a declared major or are simply curious about what kind of jobs are available to anthropologists, this is a valuable source of information! Anthropology: Real People, Real Careers is comprised of interviews with individuals working in ten different fields in applied anthropology. These include:

- Sociocultural Anthropology
- Archaeology
- Physical Anthropology
- Linguistic Anthropology
- Medical Anthropology
- Forensic Anthropology
- Business and Corporate Anthropology
- Visual Anthropology
- Environmental Anthropology
- Museum Anthropology

This DVD does not provide exhaustive information about careers in applied anthropology; however, it gives wonderful examples of anthropologists at work. Designed to be played in its entirety or by chapter, this is an ideal classroom instrument.

Anthropology: Real People, Real Careers is available to AAA members for $25 and non-members for $35.

Running time is: 42 minutes
